Business Notes.

Ducks and water fowl will be in the market after to-morrow.

Flour and grain are uneasy, and the former has undergone several changes in the past week.

Utah cheese holds its own with foreign.

Utah corn meal brings a higher rate than eastern.

Brewers are paying much less for home barley than formerly.

Sugar has lately been on the decline, but is now steady at the prices quoted above.

One year ago wheat was bringing 75c per bushel; it is now on the market at 50c @ 60c.

Seeds are beginning to make their appearance in the market. T. C. Armstrong will soon be furnished with a full line of grass and lawn.

Meat Market.

Our reporter, on his round yesterday, learned that considerable of the present beef supply is being obtained from Southern Idaho, in the vicinity of Raft River, etc. The quality of the beef is somewhat poorer than previous years, at this season. The cause is attributed to the fact that the grass on the ranges and in the mountains continued to remain green longer than usual, from the more favorable weather, and that this condition of the herbage has militated against the fattening of the beef.

Veal calves are rather scarce just now. We take this to be an indication that possibly our farmers and stock-owners have decided to feed more calves to maturity, rather than sacrifice them to the butchers.

The mutton has been so far of an excellent quality, taken on an average. Many sheep-owners are beginning to realize that it pays well to keep a part of their herd at home and feed them for the butcher's use. In fact, are long some one will make a lucrative business of stall-feeding cattle for our city meat supply.

Now is a good time to commence gathering up bones, particularly those from which fresh meat has been pared, at the butcher's stall. Planted underneath the soil of the orchard, together with good compost manure, they will tell a tale on the next fruit crop. The strawberry plants will also find the benefits of them, if put a few inches below the soil when making new beds.
